

THE MODERN LAW DEPARTMENT Envision Change

Connect > Collaborate > Communicate

Today's legal landscape is more dynamic and complex with ever-changing regulations and government policies often across multiple jurisdictions. In-house counsel are being held accountable not just for legal outcomes, but for metrics, reporting, and budgets. Technology has become the norm and a necessary resource for delivering data-driven results.

COMMON LAW DEPARTMENT CHALLENGES

Legal Information Management

Actionable Data

Streamlined Workflow

In-House and External Collaboration

Spend Management

Reporting

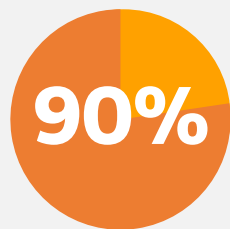

Strategic Partnership

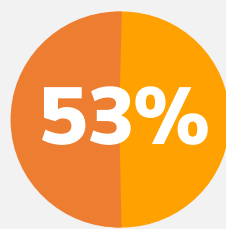

LEGAL OPERATIONS INSIGHTS

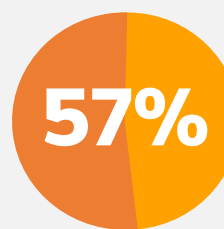

Law departments are seeking to leverage technology, focus on innovation, and instill a greater sense of discipline to the business operations of the department – so it's not surprising that half of law departments now have dedicated legal operations roles.

Law departments that say controlling external counsel costs is number one priority ¹

Law departments that reported an increase in the percentage of work handled in-house ²

Law departments that have dedicated legal operations ³

STEPS TO SUCCESS

1

Run your law department like a data-driven business unit

2

Transform your law department from reactive, to proactive, to predictive

3

Lead change with confidence and support from industry expertise

LEARN MORE

Legaltracker.com | LegalTracker-Sales@tr.com | Legal Tracker Sales +1 888 736 9587

the answer company™
THOMSON REUTERS®

1. 2019 Legal Department Operations Survey
2. Ibid
3. Ibid