

3 imperatives

for a successful client portal

Client portals are more than just digital drop boxes. For a successful, differentiated experience, law firm client portals need to cover these three essentials.

1 It must meet or beat the other options

- More secure and usable than email
- Easier and faster than a phone call
- More accessible than office hours

2 It must enhance your client experience

- Offer a digital lobby: branded, functional, professional
- Eliminate travel needs and unnecessary meetings
- Create a dedicated space for client interaction

3 It must support true collaboration

- Easily share documents and files, not attachments
- Work collaboratively with real-time tracking and discussion
- Reduce missing attachments or lost messages

The client experience your firm deserves. Client expectations are one thing, but yours matter too. If you're ready to see a client experience that lives up to your expectations, it's time to check out Thomson Reuters® HighQ.