Existing e-Invoicing Email

Customers currently signed up for e-Invoicing will continue to receive this email format for the following document types: Online Invoice, Online Debit, and Client Level.

Existing Functionality

- View Invoice button requires log in to view an invoice

The screenshot shows an email header with the Thomson Reuters logo. Below the logo is a green banner with the text "E-BILLING: SECURE, CONVENIENT, PAPERLESS BILLING" and a small image of a leaf with a water droplet. The main body of the email starts with "YOUR E-BILLING INVOICE IS AVAILABLE" and a personalized greeting: "Dear Thomson Reuters TEST FOR TANYA 9-14,". It then states: "You have a new invoice from Thomson Reuters. The invoice will be available through this link for 180 days." A prominent green button labeled "View Invoice" is centered below this text. To the left of the button is a table with invoice details:

West Account #:	XXXXXX5216
Invoice #:	6132697621
Location:	TEST FOR TANYA 9-14
Description:	New Sale Invoice
Amount:	131.76 USD AUTO-PAY
Due Date:	AUTO-PAY

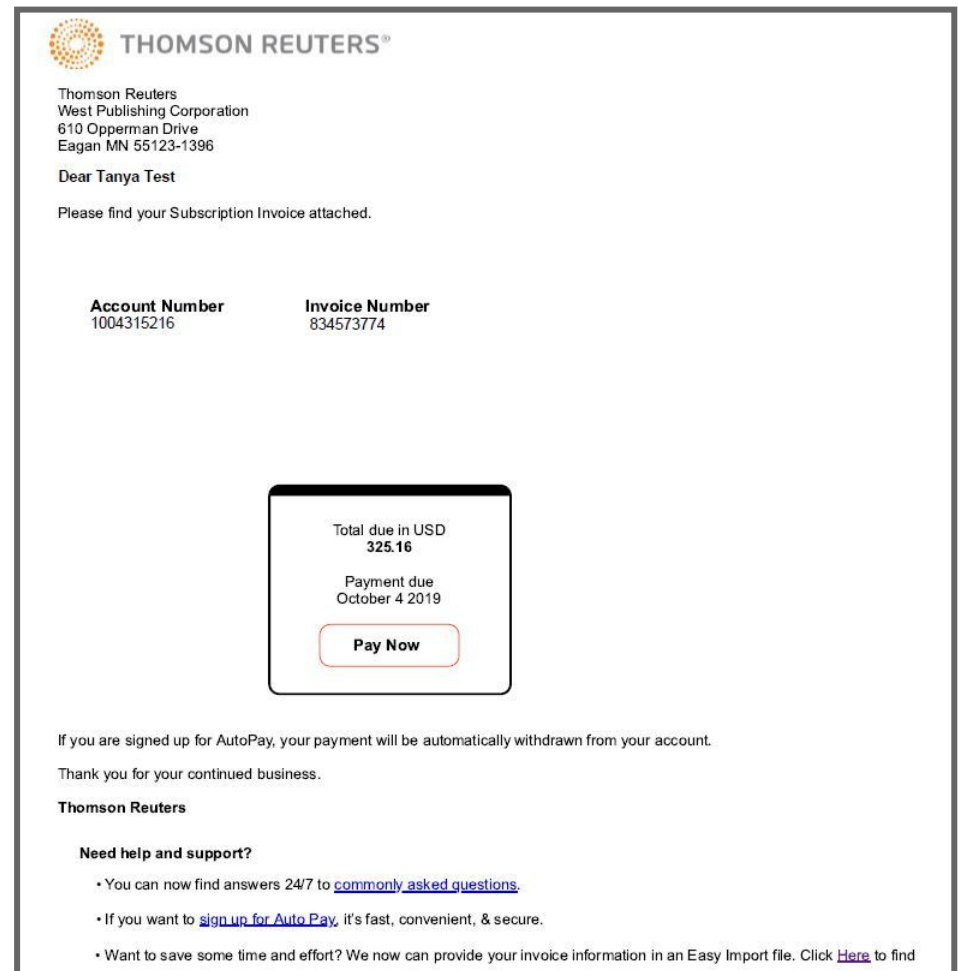

Below the table, the email provides instructions on how to pay: "Please make checks payable to Thomson Reuters - West Publishing Corp or to pay online, login to My Account." It also includes a link to "Customer Service Support" for 24/7 assistance. At the bottom, it says "Please do not reply directly to this email message." and "If Auto-Pay appears the amount will be charged to your bank account or credit card on or after the invoice date." The email concludes with "Thank you for your business."

New e-Invoicing Email

Customers currently signed up for e-Invoicing will receive the below new e-Invoicing email format for their Subscription Invoice, Credit Note, New Sale Invoice, and Print Debit document types.

Enhancements

- Invoice PDF is attached to email, no logging in required
- New simplified format
- Hyperlinks throughout the document:
 - Pay now - linked to My Account
 - Commonly Asked Questions - linked to Customer Support Site
 - Sign up for Auto Pay - linked to Auto Pay sign up or updates
 - Privacy Policy - linked to the policy

The screenshot shows a more modern email layout. It features the Thomson Reuters logo at the top left, followed by the company name and address: "Thomson Reuters, West Publishing Corporation, 610 Opperman Drive, Eagan MN 55123-1396". The recipient is addressed as "Dear Tanya Test" and is informed that a "Subscription Invoice" is attached. The email displays two key pieces of information in a clean, bold font: "Account Number 1004315216" and "Invoice Number 834573774". A central graphic box contains the following details: "Total due in USD 325.16" and "Payment due October 4 2019", with a prominent "Pay Now" button below. The email also includes a note about AutoPay: "If you are signed up for AutoPay, your payment will be automatically withdrawn from your account." It concludes with "Thank you for your continued business." and the Thomson Reuters logo. A "Need help and support?" section provides three links: "commonly asked questions", "sign up for Auto Pay", and "Here" to find an Easy Import file.

- 10 Starting on page two of your invoice, you will see a breakdown of individual charges grouped by charge type that correlate to the Summary section totals appearing on page one. The Library Plan Charges section includes Library Maintenance Agreement and West Complete Library charges.
- 11 For materials that are shipped, the account number, name, and address will appear above the charge. The shipping account may differ from the billing account.
- 12 Products with billing plans will display the date range of the service period. When you first begin a new monthly billing plan you may experience pro-rated billing. When you first begin a new monthly billing plan your first invoice will have the pro-rated charges for your first service month as well as the full monthly charge for the current month. View the service period date ranges to identify the service dates your invoice covers.

This example does not have pro-rated billing.
- 13 Each billing line item is assigned an invoice Reference number that begins with a '6'. Reference this number when paying for a particular line item or when inquiring about a specific charge with Customer Service.
- 14 Customers who have bundled print deals will see a breakdown of charges as different products are taxed at different rates. Categories include:
 - Books & Bound Volumes
 - Newsletters
 - Periodicals
 - Digital Goods
 - Tangible Personal Prop
- 15 Related Article: What is Tangible Personal Property?
- 16 Each section of individual charge detail will have a Charges Total that correlates to the Summary section totals appearing on page one.
- 17 The Subscription Product Charges section includes charges for print subscriptions, Assured Print Pricing, and annual/monthly charges not included in a bundled print deal.
- 18 The Ship/Post date references the date the update shipped for physical shipments or the date the charges posted to the account for other product charges. Any physical material that shipped will have a correlating Delivery number.
- 18 Any products that shipped under the same Delivery number will appear below the Delivery number.

If you have a Purchase Order number set up for your purchase, it will appear just below the shipment description.

19 The Findlaw Charges section will include charges for Findlaw and Super Lawyers.

20 Findlaw websites are billed in arrears, after the month of service. Findlaw websites include Firmsite Website Packages and FS Integrated Marketing Suites.
In this example, the service period of the referenced website was January and they were billed on the February invoice.

21 The unique identifier is a way to easily identify a product or bundle of products that were purchased together. When you have similar products it can be helpful to reference the unique identifier when inquiring with Customer Service.

22 Findlaw Directory Topspots and Findlaw Super Lawyer profiles are billed in the same month the service is provided.
In this example, the service period of the referenced profiles was February and they were billed on the February invoice.

23 Some Findlaw products, such as Directory Topspots, will display the location / practice area information.
